A man with a beard and mustache, wearing a black shirt, is smiling and giving a thumbs up with both hands. He is standing in front of a large, blue longarm quilting machine. The machine has a long horizontal arm with a sewing head at the end. There are two large, adjustable lamps hanging over the machine. The background is a plain wall.

Amputee Dan Burgess of FL found new life with the Longarm Quilting machine for his “One Foot Quilting” business. WVFV partnered with manufacturer to purchase and install the $40,000 machine adapted to his needs.
